

SHELTON STATE COMMUNITY COLLEGE

COMMUNITY SCENE

Volume 1
Issue 2
Spring 1984

BUILDING BETTER BOARDS FOR THE TUSCALOOSA COMMUNITY

Shelton State is currently undertaking a new project, designed to strengthen volunteer and non-profit boards in the West Alabama area. Shelton was selected last fall to participate in a national demonstration project designed to strengthen the skills of volunteers serving as board members of non-profit organizations.

The "Building Better Boards for Community Organizations" project, with financial assistance from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation, was initially piloted by seven community colleges serving as demonstration centers. Through the project a variety of board development services—including courses on such topics as fundraising and financial management, legal liabilities of boardsmanship, board recruiting, and conducting effective meetings were held.

Shelton is currently conducting a needs assessment survey within the Tuscaloosa community to determine the local needs. Plans call for the college to offer several programs this year designed for volunteer board members.

A community advisory committee has been selected to develop the programs. Serving on the committee are: Jimmy Collins, Al DuPont, Gail Skidmore, John Hogue, Dr. Barbara Spencer, Dr. Eddie Thomas, Libby Kirksey, Joanne Miles, Hayes McGahey, Jim Mills, Johnnie R. Aycok, and Tommy Hester. Coordinator for the program is Lucy Kubiszyn.

COLLEGE TO FIELD BASEBALL TEAM

Shelton State will field a baseball team during the 1985 season, according to coach Jack Kubiszyn. "We will be giving scholarships to student athletes beginning in the Fall quarter. We hope to have at least one player from every high school in our service area," Kubiszyn said. The Shelton Buccaneers will play other teams in the Alabama Junior Community College Association.

Kubiszyn, a former basketball and baseball standout for the University, played seven years of professional baseball, including two seasons with the Cleveland Indians. In 1963 he was selected the best third baseman in the minor leagues.

For more information on the team, contact Kubiszyn at 345-5650 or 553-0389.

Published quarterly by Shelton
State Community College, 202
Skyland Blvd., Tuscaloosa, Alabama
(205) 759-1583, Lucy Kubiszyn,
Editor

SOUTHERN LIVING AT SHELTON

Ernie Wood, editor of SOUTHERN LIVING magazine, will be the keynote speaker for the Shelton State Folk Festival, scheduled for Tuesday, April 3, as part of Tuscaloosa's Heritage Week. Wood will speak on "What's Southern About Preservation" at 2 p.m. in the Shelton State Junior College auditorium, 202 Skyland Boulevard.

Wood, a native of Chapel Hill, North Carolina, is a graduate of Hamilton College in Clinton, New York. He has worked as a reporter and critic covering the visual arts and architecture for THE NEWS AND OBSERVER in Raleigh, North Carolina, and has pursued graduate work in architecture at the School of Design at North Carolina University. In 1977, he was named editor of NORTH CAROLINA ARCHITECT Magazine.

As a free-lance writer specializing in architecture, Wood's work has appeared in such national magazines as the AIA JOURNAL and HISTORIC PRESERVATION.

At 1:30 p.m., Earl Drennan of Manna Grocery will discuss "The Use of Medicinal Herbs and Vegetables in the Past." At 6:30 p.m. Temo Callahan and Friends (Ted Sanford, A. D. Hamner, Lester Cobb, Felix Blackwell, Sharon Winters, Jim Robertson, Williard Kornegay, and Joe Morgan) will play bluegrass music as part of the Shelton State Hoedown. Cloggers and square dancers will perform at 7:30 p.m.

The Festival will begin at 11 a.m. with strolling clowns and jugglers mingling with visitors. Various arts and crafts will also be on exhibit. Mud painter Jimmy Sudduth of Fayette will be at the Festival exhibiting various works. Some of the other exhibitors will be Michiko Reed, paper art, and John Puryear, basket weaving. The Tuscaloosa Hooking Club will have hooked rugs and other needle craft on exhibit.

Another aspect of the Festival this year will be a display of writing and art descriptions of the Tuscaloosa area. Included will be books written by local authors. Another special display will include a historical exhibit by residents of the Samantha and West Blocton area.

Shelton will also sponsor a creative writing contest as part of the Festival. There will be two divisions of the contest, one for Shelton students and one for students from area high schools. Cash prizes will be awarded to the winners. There will be three categories of entries in each division, fiction, essay, and poetry. Some of the papers will be selected for inclusion in a literary magazine. All entries must be submitted to Sharon Deck at Shelton by Wednesday, March 28, 1984.

All events of the Festival are free and open to the public. For more information on any area of the Festival, contact Lucy Kubiszyn at 759-1583.

PIANIST NATALIE HINDARIUS WILL PRESENT A PROGRAM ON MARCH 27 AT 11:00 A.M. IN THE JUNIOR COLLEGE AUDITORIUM. THE PUBLIC IS INVITED TO ATTEND.

DINNER AND CARMEN

The music department at Shelton State in cooperation with the Shelton State Alumni Association will present the concert version of "Carmen," on May 10-12 in the Junior College auditorium. A dinner production will be held on Thursday and Friday evenings at 7 p.m. A 2:30 matinee will be held on Saturday, May 12.

Tickets will be $7.50 a person for the dinner theatre and $3 for the matinee. All reservations for the dinner theatre production must be in by May 1, 1984. Patron tickets are $25 a couple and Sponsors are $50 a couple. All proceeds will go to the Alumni Scholarship Fund.

Cast in the roles of Carmen and Don Jose are Teresa Hardin and Jay Roberts. Other performers include: Brain Jones, Escamillo; Debbie Jackson, Macaela; Renee Rains, Frasquita; Teresa Hill, Mercedes; Tom Stephens, Zuniga; Ronnie Miles, El Dancairo; Bud Johnson, Mamuedita; and Joel Hester, narrator.

Joy Dendy is the director. She will be assisted by Eleanor McElvy, voice instructor, and Syble Coats, chairman of the department of music.

FENCING CLUB FORMED

The Corsairs, Shelton's new fencing club, has been organized and is ready to go out into the community, according to Dr. Bruce Bizzoco, fencing instructor and club sponsor.

The club, comprised of students from the school's fencing class and other interested students, will act as a demonstration team that will visit malls and high schools. By fall, plans call for Shelton to field a team to fence some of the major universities.

"Fencing is a sport in which both men and women can participate throughout their lives. It is a sport you don't outgrow. It is not a terribly expensive sport for the student or the college. I hope in the future we can get the junior college system to adopt fencing as a competitive sport so that competitions can be held between each of the colleges," Bizzoco said.

If you are interested in learning more about the program or in scheduling the Corsairs, contact Dr. Bruce Bizzoco at Shelton State.

CNC PROGRAM RECEIVES NEW EQUIPMENT

The computerized numerical control program from the Technical Division of Shelton State was the recipient of a vertical computerized numerical control machining center valued at over $100,000. The machine was donated to Shelton by Cincinnati Milacron, one of the largest machine tool manufacturers in the world. The machine will be housed in the numerical control department of Shelton and will be shown to other companies while being used for the training of Shelton students. This vertical CNC machining center will be added to the coordinate measuring machine, a horizontal operation, which was purchased last year.

LUNCH IN CAPITOL PARK

Shelton State is happy to be a part of the "Lunch in Capitol Park" program being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and the Tuscaloosa County Preservation Society. The purpose of the project is to encourage local citizens to enjoy the outdoors during the spring time, to learn about and enjoy local musicians and to be exposed to some of Tuscaloosa's rich heritage.

The first date scheduled is Friday, March 30 and the second, Friday, April 6. A parade will begin in front of City Hall led by the fire truck from the Alabama State Fire College. Entertainment will be provided from 11:30 - 1:00 p.m. Bama Bino pizza will have food available from their portable kitchen, or people may bring their own lunch. The Shelton Singers will be part of the entertainment during the March 30 date.

SKYROCKET TO SUCCESS

"Skyrocket to Success," a math and science conference for girls in grades 6-9, will be held on Saturday, May 5, in the Junior College auditorium. The college is sponsoring the program along with the American Association of University Women, Junior League of Tuscaloosa and the University of Alabama in an effort to increase the awareness of career opportunities for women in math and science.

Some of the areas scheduled to be covered are chemistry, drafting, nutrition, archeology, finance, science, medicine, computer science, computer music, astronomy, biology, ecology, dentistry, optometry, probability statistics, geology, microbiology, math pharmacology, television technology, nursing, and physics.

Registration deadline is April 14 and each workshop is limited to 12 participants. For more information on the conference, contact Camille Cochran or Guesna Dohman at the college.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS EARN COLLEGE CREDIT

High school students are able to earn college credit while in high school through Shelton State's Accelerated High School Program. Through the program, a student can complete 35 quarter hours of college work before graduating from high school.

To be eligible for the program, a student must have completed the tenth grade and maintained a "B" average. It is also necessary for the student to have the written recommendation of the principal or superintendent of his high school. For more information contact Dr. Humphrey Lee, dean of students at Shelton.

WOMEN'S SOFTBALL

Shelton's women's softball team, coached by Steve King, will begin their 1984 season this month. Last year the Buccaneers were 33-10 during the season and were the Alabama Junior College Conference champions.

Members of this year's team are: Mitzi Boykin, Mary Green, Margie Holt, Ozella Leatherwood, Judith Lee, Pat Linceford, Sharman Martin, Phyllis Maynor, Lisa Parker, Dianna Parten, Lisa Scott, Melanie Smith, Janet Taylor, Dana Tidmore, Lynne Vining, and Lori Westbrook. Charlotte Sumner is the trainer/statistician and Patrick Simpson is the student assistant. Assistant coach for the team is Susan Graves.